About my art:

The purpose of my artwork is to show that ideas or decisions that seem okay when they were made, or like they wouldn't affect you, can actually lead you down a dark path and turn out to have been bad decisions in the end. The path to the right is meant to show that decisions that are not popular or seem bad at the time can actually lead you to a wonderful life and that it was the right decision in the end. A decision that I made in my life that somewhat inspired this piece was when I had to make a decision between going to a school with better opportunities for me, although at the time it seemed like the wrong choice to leave all my friends, and though I knew it would be a lot more work, the choice I made got me where I am now and in the end was the best decision I could have made.
